Excerpt: .cases of unknown origin to those of known artificial origin. Further, it does away with all need for a motive and with the incredulity which cannot believe selfmutilation possible. A brief study of somnambulism and suggestion will demonstrate the truth of these statements. Somnambulism may be defined as that hysterical state in which an idea or a feeling takes on an exaggerated growth which the patient is powerless to check. Because of this unchecked growth, outside the control of the will, that one idea acquires such importance that it finally completely dominates the patient. This is known as somnambulism. During this period of the somnambulistic state all functions are suppressed except those directly concerned in the dominating idea. Although the other functions still exist, they are beyond the control of the patient s will. The dominating idea disassociates itself from them and develops outside the patient s consciousness and control. As Professor Janet expresses it, there is a retraction of the field of consciousness. The idea, which in this state of somnambulism assumes such exaggerated growth, may arise from suggestion from without or from within. After a time, the somnambulistic state disappears, gradually or abruptly, but the patient has no memory of the somnambulistic period and often cannot remember the idea which recently dominated his whole personality. It is also characteristic of hysteria that, in the same way in which an idea takes on an exaggerated growth, there may develop beyond the patient s...
