Not illustrated. 1998-04 Excerpt: .Occupations usually requiring on-the-job training or experience are projected to grow more slowly than the average, yet this group only loses 1.2 percentage points of its employment share over the 1996-2006 period. Occupations that require postsecondary education or training remain essentially unchanged. It should be emphasized that although the increasingly complex economy clearly seems to be demanding workers with higher levels of education and training, trends generally develop slowly and it may take many years for the structure of employment by the required education or training to change appreciably. Occupational Education and Training Requirements Categories First professional degree. Occupations requiring a professional degree. Completion of the academic program usually requires at least 6 years of full-time equivalent academic study, including college study prior to entering the professional degree program. Doctoral degree. Occupations that usually require a Ph.D. or other doctoral degree. Completion of the degree...
