Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Elementary Schools of California: A Monograph California was admitted as a State (1850) without the usual preliminary stage of a territorial government. The State Constitution, framed and adopted by the people in 1849, provided for the election of a State Superintendent of public instruction by direct popular vote, for a term of three years; made it the duty of the legislature to provide for a system of common schools by which a school should be kept up in each school district at least three months in every year ; and that the proceeds of all land grants made by the general government in aid of schools should be inviolably appropriated to the support of common schools throughout the State. Thus was laid the legal foundation of common schools in California. From the record of proceedings it appears that the opinion prevailed in the Constitutional Convention that these land grants would prove to be of immense value; that the lands would be located in mineral regions, and sold for fabulous sums; that the school fund...
